The Shameless: a mother–daughter confrontation stated in French

Cannes 2024 | Un Certain Regard

Konstantin BOJANOV

ENGLISH EXCERPT

“forbidden romance”

FRENCH EXCERPT

“affronter sa mère”

WHAT THE TEXT SHOWS

The French synopsis explicitly connects Devika's encounter with Renuka to confronting her mother. The English synopsis describes their forbidden romance and escape but does not mention a mother or a mother–daughter confrontation. The observed difference is the availability of that particular relationship cue.

HOW TO USE THIS CARD

Check whether a bilingual programme supplies the same key relationship cues to its readers.

Official English synopsis →

Official French synopsis →

These are selected examples from 29 complete bilingual pairs, including one similarity comparison. They do not measure how often differences occur.

The festival year identifies the programme edition. These official retrospective texts were retrieved in 2026; translation direction and earlier revisions are unknown. Claims concern the synopsis, not the full film.

Plan 75: an older woman losing essential resources, stated only in English

Cannes 2022 | Un Certain Regard

HAYAKAWA Chie

ENGLISH EXCERPT

“means of survival are vanishing”

FRENCH EXCERPT

“un accompagnement logistique et financier”

WHAT THE TEXT SHOWS

Both synopses describe a government programme and its characters. The English text directly describes an older woman losing the resources needed to stay alive. French describes logistical and financial assistance from the programme without stating that a character acts because of poverty or lost means of survival. Policy assistance is not itself evidence of personal financial hardship.

HOW TO USE THIS CARD

Distinguish a character's stated circumstances from the surrounding policy description.

Official English synopsis →

Official French synopsis →

These are selected examples from 29 complete bilingual pairs, including one similarity comparison. They do not measure how often differences occur.

The festival year identifies the programme edition. These official retrospective texts were retrieved in 2026; translation direction and earlier revisions are unknown. Claims concern the synopsis, not the full film.

War Pony: making something of oneself, or making ends meet?

Cannes 2022 | Un Certain Regard

Riley KEOUGH, Gina GAMMELL

ENGLISH EXCERPT

“make something of himself”

FRENCH EXCERPT

“joindre les deux bouts”

WHAT THE TEXT SHOWS

Both versions list Bill's income-generating activities and mention the American Dream. English first describes his wish for personal advancement; French explicitly says he is trying to make ends meet. The wording makes hardship more explicit in French, while the English synopsis still contains economic information.

HOW TO USE THIS CARD

Check whether bilingual wording changes how explicit a character's circumstances are, without reducing the difference to a theme being present or absent.

Official English synopsis →

Official French synopsis →

These are selected examples from 29 complete bilingual pairs, including one similarity comparison. They do not measure how often differences occur.

The festival year identifies the programme edition. These official retrospective texts were retrieved in 2026; translation direction and earlier revisions are unknown. Claims concern the synopsis, not the full film.

The Village Next to Paradise: a family overview and a father's multiple jobs

Cannes 2024 | Un Certain Regard

Mo HARAWE

ENGLISH EXCERPT

“their different aspirations”

FRENCH EXCERPT

“cumule les petits boulots”

WHAT THE TEXT SHOWS

English outlines a newly assembled family navigating different aspirations and a complex world. French names single father Mamargade, describes his multiple small jobs to improve his son's life, and says his divorced sister moves in. The observable difference is the specificity of family roles and livelihood arrangements.

HOW TO USE THIS CARD

Check which identifiable family roles and work details survive a synopsis rewrite or shortening.

Official English synopsis →

Official French synopsis →

These are selected examples from 29 complete bilingual pairs, including one similarity comparison. They do not measure how often differences occur.

The festival year identifies the programme edition. These official retrospective texts were retrieved in 2026; translation direction and earlier revisions are unknown. Claims concern the synopsis, not the full film.

A comparison case: both Tirailleurs synopses describe father and son facing war together

Cannes 2022 | Un Certain Regard

Mathieu VADEPIED

ENGLISH EXCERPT

“face the war together”

FRENCH EXCERPT

“ensemble, affronter la guerre”

WHAT THE TEXT SHOWS

Both synopses say a father enlists to join his forcibly recruited 17-year-old son, that they face war together, and that the father seeks to bring his son home safely. No clear information difference is observed in those shared circumstances and protective intentions.

HOW TO USE THIS CARD

Keep a comparison with no clear relationship-information gap, rather than requiring every bilingual reading to produce a difference.

Official English synopsis →

Official French synopsis →

These are selected examples from 29 complete bilingual pairs, including one similarity comparison. They do not measure how often differences occur.

The festival year identifies the programme edition. These official retrospective texts were retrieved in 2026; translation direction and earlier revisions are unknown. Claims concern the synopsis, not the full film.